Dear Parents and Carers,

Safer Internet Day 2019: How to help your child be kind to others online

Assemblies this week have been themed around Safer Internet Day 2019, to help reinforce the message, the website ParentZone have published an article entitled "How to help your child be kind to others online".

In school, we often find ourselves dealing with conflict that has begun via social media so this article is a useful tool for you to discuss with your child their online interactions with others.
